growing people and organisations

Winner of several awards for innovation and quality, the Springboard Consultancy's programmes enable people to give more and get more out of their work. They identify where they are going, and then develop the skills, 'can-do' attitude and the drive and focus to get on with it. All useful assets at any time, but especially valuable to organisations dealing with change.

Who is Navigator for?

For all employers wanting the benefits of developing their staff. Of course, developing people is good management practice anyway, but there are countless organisational benefits as well by having staff full of drive, enthusiasm, ideas, skills and the motivation to succeed – especially in difficult times.

Navigator is designed to be effective for men from all backgrounds, ages and stages of their lives – be they manual, clerical, technical, administrative, medical, research or professional staff, or in the police or armed services.

Following Navigator, men are much more focussed on their careers, rather than seeing work as 'just a job'. It has broadened their horizons and shown how they can make things happen for themselves, rather than waiting for things to come to them.

MCL Group

What does it consist of?

Delivered over three months, it consists of five simple, and yet powerful, ingredients, all grounded in reality:

1. The excellent Navigator workbook, regularly updated and covering all the material for the entire programme – there's no need for anything extra.
2. Four energising one-day workshops spread over three months. Staff are only out for one day a month.
3. Inspiring guest speakers – men that participants can really relate to, and who will bring their story to life.
4. The encouragement of effective networks within the group, so their progress becomes self-perpetuating.
5. A peer support system to maintain the momentum.

How do you access Navigator?

The Navigator programme is delivered exclusively by trainers who are especially trained and licensed by the Springboard Consultancy. This means you get the best value from the programme. Contact us to find a trainer to deliver a programme for you, or visit our website to find a trainer in your local area. www.springboardconsultancy.com/trainer-map.html

What results can you expect?

The results relate to the objectives each man sets himself on the first workshop. Many men use the programme to get results at work, such as new qualifications, promotions, new skills, a new attitude to change and a massive boost of energy, motivation and determination.

Others focus on results in their personal life, such as sorting out difficult relationships, improving health, dealing with stress and gaining a work/life balance.

Some men steam up their career ladder after attending the Navigator development programme for men, whilst others stay in the same job but with an invigorated sense of purpose and a more positive attitude.

Here is a selection of the impressive results you can expect:

84% of past participants say they have 'a more positive attitude' since attending the Navigator development programme for men.

82% say they have 'better decision making' skills

82% say they have 'better communication skills'

29% have received a performance related pay increase or bonus for which they credit the Navigator development programme for men.

What about a programme for women?

The Springboard Women's Development Programme for women does exactly the same job as Navigator – but for women. For added benefit, run both programmes. Contact us for details.
